OPTIMEX PRIVACY POLICY

Last Updated: 15 April 2025

1. ABOUT THIS PRIVACY POLICY

1.1. Unless otherwise stated, any defined terms used in this privacy policy ("Privacy Policy") shall have the meaning given to them in the Optimex Terms of Use accessible at https://optimex.xyz/files/optimex_tou.pdf ("Terms of Use").

1.2. This is the Privacy Policy for Prime Precision Ltd (the "Company"), a company incorporated in Seychelles. The Company is committed to protecting and respecting your privacy, managing your personal data transparently and in a fair and lawful manner.

1.3. This Privacy Policy (together with our Terms of Use and any other documents referred to herein) sets out the basis on which any personal data we collect from you, or that you provide to us, will be processed by us when you utilise any of the Sites or the Services and/or provide us with your personal data. Please read the following carefully to understand our practices in processing your data, as well as your rights regarding your personal data and how we will treat it. Your acceptance may limit or waive certain of your rights. It is your responsibility to review any updates to this Privacy Policy if you have not reviewed it since the "Last Updated" date above.

1.4. By visiting our Sites or otherwise utilising any of the Services and submitting data to us, you acknowledge that our collection, use, disclosure and processing of personal data will be in accordance with this Privacy Policy (including, for the avoidance of doubt, the cross-jurisdictional transfer of your data) and are accepting and consenting to us collecting, using, disclosing and processing your personal data as described in this Privacy Policy. Please refrain from accessing the Sites or utilising any of the Services, and do not provide any personal data to us, if you disagree with this Privacy Policy.

1.5. The Sites may contain links to other websites that are not owned or maintained by us. These links are provided only for your convenience. You may also be accessing the Sites and/or the Services through third party websites and/or platforms. This Privacy Policy only applies to the Sites and/or the Services. When visiting these third party websites, their privacy policies apply. These third parties may collect, use, disclose or process your personal data for their own purposes, and without our involvement or reference to us. We are not liable or responsible for the collection, use, disclosure or processing of your personal data by such third parties.

2. AMENDMENTS TO THIS PRIVACY POLICY

We may update our Privacy Policy from time to time without notice to you, in compliance with Applicable Laws or as we update our data usage and handling processes. In the event of any change, amendment or update to this Privacy Policy by the Company, we will update the "Last Updated" date at the top of this Privacy Policy. The updated Privacy Policy will supersede earlier versions and will apply to personal data provided to us previously. All changes to the Privacy Policy will take effect immediately when we post them. You are expected to check https://optimex.xyz/files/optimex_privacy_policy.pdf from time to time so that you are aware of any changes to this Privacy Policy as such changes are binding on you. If you do not agree to this Privacy Policy, please exit the Sites and immediately cease usage of the Sites and the Services.

3. YOUR PERSONAL DATA

3.1. We may collect and process personal data provided directly and voluntarily by you; we also process, insofar as necessary, personal data provided to us by third parties, including publicly accessible data, personal data legitimately provided by other group companies and personal data provided by other trusted third parties. You are responsible for providing us with personal data that is correct and informing us of any changes occurring in your data in writing, so that we may take all reasonable measures to keep our records in your regard correct and up to date. Where our collection is based on consent, you have the choice, at any time, not to provide your personal data to the Company, and you also have the right to withdraw your consent for us to continue collecting, using, disclosing and processing your personal data, by contacting our Help Desk; however, do note that failure to provide such personal data for us to process and/or withdrawal of your consent for us to collect your personal data may result in the Company being unable to continue to provide our Services to you or pursue any contractual relationship which may be in place between us.

3.2. Upon receipt of your written request to withdraw your consent, we may require reasonable time (depending on the complexity of the request and its impact on our relationship with you) for your request to be processed and for us to notify you of the consequences of us acceding to the same, including any legal consequences which may affect your rights and liabilities to us.

3.3. Please note that withdrawal of your consent will not affect our collection, use and/or disclosure of personal data where such collection, use and/or disclosure without consent is permitted or required under Applicable Laws and is in accordance with this Privacy Policy.

3.4. Personal data you give us

(a) You may give us personal data about you by accessing and/or using the Sites and/or Services, connecting your Wallet, filling in forms on the Sites, submitting your documents or by corresponding with us by phone, e-mail or otherwise. This includes personal data you provide when you use our Services, when you report a problem with the Sites. Examples of such personal data you may provide to us may include (depending on the nature of your interaction with us) your wallet address, name, telephone number, mailing address, email address, identification data (such as copies of your identification document or personal photograph), and any other information relating to any individuals which you have provided us in any forms you may have submitted to us, or via other forms of interaction with you. You may also provide us with personal data of your officers, employees, agents and customers in order for us to provide you with our Services.

(b) This information is necessary for the operation of the Sites and the Services, to personalise your experience, and with the view to enhancing the security of your transactions. By connecting your Wallet to the Sites, you acknowledge that your transaction history and other associated information will be accessible to us and may also be publicly available as required by the nature of blockchain networks.

3.5. Providing personal data belonging to others

In certain circumstances, you may also provide us with personal data of persons other than yourself (such as your family members and next-of-kin). If you do so, you represent and warrant that you have brought this Privacy Policy to his/her attention, informed him/her of the purposes for which we are collecting his/her personal data and that he/she has consented to your disclosure of his/her personal data to us for those purposes and accepts this Privacy Policy. You agree to indemnify and hold us harmless from and against any and all claims by such individuals relating to our collection, use and disclosure of such personal data in accordance with the terms of this Privacy Policy.

3.6. Minors

The Sites and/or the Services are not intended to be accessed or used by children, minors or persons who are not of legal age as determined based on Applicable Laws. If you are a parent or guardian and you have reason to believe your child or ward has provided us with their personal data without your consent, please contact us. If we become aware that we have collected personal data from anyone who is not of legal age without parental consent, we may take steps to remove that information from our servers.

4. COLLECTING YOUR PERSONAL DATA

4.1. Personal data and information we collect about you

(a) We collect personal data that is relevant to our relationship with you. We may collect your personal data directly or indirectly through various channels, such as when:

(i) you access, download or use the Sites and the Services;

(ii) you connect your Wallet to the Sites and/or otherwise interact with the Services using your Wallet;

(iii) you authorise us to obtain your personal data from a third party;

(iv) you enter into agreements with us;

(v) you transact with us, contact us or request that we contact you through various communication channels, for example, through social media platforms, messenger platforms, face-to-face meetings, telephone calls, emails, fax and letters;

(vi) you request to be included in an e-mail or our mailing list;

(vii) you attend events or functions organised by us;

(viii) we seek information about you and receive your personal data in connection with your relationship with us; and/or

(ix) you submit your personal data to us for any other reason.

(b) With regard to your access and/or use of the Sites and/or Services and each of your visits to our Sites, we may automatically collect the following information:

(i) Technical information, including the blockchain address associated with your Wallet, your browser type and version, time zone setting, browser plug-in types and versions, operating system and platform. When you connect your Wallet to the Sites and/or otherwise interact with the Services using your Wallet, we collect and log the blockchain address(es) associated with your Wallet to learn more about your use of the Services and for purposes of screening on-chain activity associated with your Wallet, in order to detect any potential involvement of your Wallet in illicit or unlawful transactions.

(ii) Information about your visit, including the full Uniform Resource Locators (URL) clickstream to, through and from our site (including date and time); products you viewed or searched for; page response times, download errors, length of visits to certain pages, page interaction information (such as scrolling, clicks, and mouse- overs), and methods used to browse away from the page and any phone number used to communicate with us.

(iii) If you contact us or we contact you using the telephone, we may monitor or record the phone call for quality assurance, training and security purposes.

4.2. Personal Data we receive from other sources

(a) We may receive personal data about you if you use any of the other websites we operate or other services we provide. Depending on your relationship with us, we may also collect your personal data from third party sources, for example, from:

(i) any third parties whom you have authorised us to obtain your personal data from;

(ii) entities in which you (or a party connected to you) have an interest;

(iii) our business partners such as third parties providing services to us (including, for example, sub-contractors in technical, payment and delivery services, advertising networks, analytics providers, search information providers, etc.);

(iv) your family members or friends who provide your personal data to us on your behalf; and/or

(v) public agencies or other public sources.

(b) Apart from personal data, we may collect other types of information which are not related to an individual and which are anonymous. For example, the number of visitors to our Sites and the number of Users using the Services. In this way, we hope to improve the Services.

5. PROCESSING YOUR PERSONAL DATA

5.1. We collect, use, disclose and process your personal data where:

(a) you have voluntarily provided us with your personal data;

(b) you have given us consent;

(c) you have shared your personal data in the public domain, including on social media or other communication channels that may be publicly viewable;

(d) necessary to comply with our legal or regulatory obligations, e.g. responding to valid requests from public authorities;

(e) necessary to support our legitimate business interests, provided that this does not override your interests or rights; and

(f) necessary to perform a transaction you have entered into with us, or provide a service that you have requested or require from us.

5.2. General purposes

(a) We collect, use, disclose and process your personal data, including data provided by you, data we collect about you and data provided by third parties for purposes connected or relevant to our business, to manage your relationships with us, in the following ways and upon the following grounds :

(i) for the fulfillment of contractual obligations entered into between you and us and to provide you with the information, products and services that you request from us;

(ii) for the fulfillment of legal obligations and legal compliance;

(iii) for security purposes, e.g. protecting the Website from unauthorised access or usage and to monitor for security threats;

(iv) to facilitate your use of the Sites and the Services, including verifying your Wallet and establishing your identity;

(v) to monitor the usage of the Sites and the Services;

(vi) to organise community events;

(vii) to communicate with you, and assisting you with your queries, requests, applications, complaints, and feedback;

(viii) to resolve any disputes, investigating any complaint, claim or dispute or any actual or suspected illegal or unlawful conduct and/or investigating and deterring against fraudulent, unauthorised or illegal activities;

(ix) to notify you of special promotions, offers and events by way of advertisements and marketing communications sent to you by way of email and other means adopted by us and/or our advertising partners, as permitted by Applicable Laws;

(x) to send communications to you (including surveys) for the purpose of developing new products and services or evaluation and improvement of our existing products and services;

(xi) to manage and engage third parties or data processors that provide services to us, e.g. IT services, technological services, delivery services, and other professional services;

(xii) to contact you in respect of any matters relating to your use of the Sites and the Services, your transactions with us and our business partners;

(xiii) to conduct data analytics and research for various purposes (including but not limited to identifying usage trends, determining the effectiveness of our promotional campaigns, and evaluating and improving the Sites and the Services, marketing and your experience);

(xiv) to notify you about changes to our Services;

(xv) to ensure that content from our Sites are presented in the most effective manner for you and for your computer;

(xvi) to provide you with information about other goods and services we offer that are similar to those that you have already purchased or previously used or enquired about;

(xvii) to provide you, or permit specific third parties to provide you, with information about goods or services we feel may interest you. If you are an existing User, we will only contact you by electronic means (e-mail or others) with information about goods and services similar to those which were the subject of previous use or a previous sale or negotiations of a sale to you, subject to your consent. If you are a new User, and where we permit selected third parties to use your data, we (or they) will contact you by electronic means only subject to your consent.

(xviii) to support and safeguard legitimate company interests which require processing beyond the fulfilment of contractual obligations such as:

(1) processing of personal data for the purposes of our daily operations and any other administrative purposes, including finance, IT and HR purposes, quality assurance and staff training, and compliance with internal policies and procedures, including audit, accounting, risk management and record keeping;

(2) processing of personal data for market research, statistical purposes and service and product development;

(3) processing of your data for the protection of the Company's legal position in the event of legal proceedings, including enforcing our rights under the Terms of Use, and obligations owed to us, or protecting ourselves from legal liability;

(4) processing for the purposes of ensuring network and information security, including preventing unauthorised access to electronic communications networks and stopping damage to computer and electronic communication systems;

(5) processing for the purpose of reporting possible criminal acts or threats to public security to competent authorities;

(6) to administer our Sites and for internal operations, including troubleshooting, data analysis, testing, research, statistical and survey purposes;

(7) to improve our Sites to ensure that content is presented in the most effective manner for you and for your computer;

(8) to allow you to participate in interactive features of our Services, when you choose to do so;

(9) as part of our efforts to keep our Sites safe and secure;

(10) to measure or understand the effectiveness of advertising we serve to you and others, and to deliver relevant advertising to you;

(11) to make suggestions and recommendations to you and other Users of our Sites about services that may interest you or them;

(12) for accurately carrying out and confirming your instructions, for training purposes and/or in order to improve the quality of the Services. Such data shall include calls, email communication and online chats;

(13) to facilitate the carrying out of corporate restructuring plans, acquisitions, mergers, or transfers of our business.(including evaluating or conducting a merger, divestiture, restructuring, reorganisation, dissolution, or other sale or transfer of some or all of our assets, whether as a going concern or as part of bankruptcy, liquidation, or similar proceeding, in which assets transferred comprise any personal data relating to Users of the Sites and the Services);

(14) to comply with any legal or regulatory obligations, Applicable Laws, regulations, codes of practices, guidelines, or rules (including anti-money laundering, know-your-client and countering the financing of terrorism laws and rules), or to assist in law enforcement and investigations conducted by any governmental and/or regulatory authority; and

(15) to manage our stakeholder relations;

(xix) for such purposes that may be informed to you when your personal data is collected and any other purposes for which you have provided your personal data;

(xx) for transmitting to any unaffiliated third parties including our third-party service providers and agents, and relevant governmental and/or regulatory authorities, whether in Seychelles or abroad, for the aforementioned purposes; and

(xxi) for any other reasonable purposes related to the aforesaid.

5.3. Marketing purposes

In order for us to market products, events and services which are of specific interest and relevance to you, we may analyse and rely on your personal data provided to us, or data collected from your interactions with us. However, no marketing, using your personal data in non-aggregated and/or identifiable form, would be carried out unless you have provided us with your consent (whether express or deemed) to use your personal data for such marketing purposes. If you do not want us to use your personal data for the purposes of marketing you can withdraw your consent at any time by contacting our Help Desk.

5.4. Use permitted under Applicable Laws

We may also collect, use, disclose and process your personal data for other purposes, without your knowledge or consent, where this is required or permitted by Applicable Laws. Your personal data may be processed if it is necessary on reasonable request by a law enforcement or regulatory authority, body or agency or in the defence of a legal claim. We will not delete personal data if relevant to an investigation or a dispute. It will continue to be stored until those issues are fully resolved.

5.5. Contacting you

When we contact or send you information for the above purposes and purposes for which you have consented, we may do so by post, e-mail, text message, telephone or such other means provided by you. If you do not wish to receive any communication or information from us, or wish to restrict the manner by which we may contact or send you information, you may contact our Help Desk.

6. DISCLOSURE OF YOUR PERSONAL DATA

6.1. As part of our compliance procedure, the Company may forward your data to trusted third parties to be processed for Anti-Money Laundering (“AML”), Counter Terrorist Financing (“CTF”), Counter Proliferation Financing (“CPF”) purposes. Your personal data may also be provided to trusted third- party processors for User help and communication services, credit reference, Wallet screening and fraud prevention, business scoring, credit scoring, placing of monetary deposits, transfer of payments, debt collection and recovery. Such processing shall be conducted in compliance with all legal requirements as well as our Privacy Policy and strict retention policies and codes of conduct. Where appropriate and permissible, we will enter into agreements with these third parties to protect your personal data in a manner that is consistent with all Applicable Laws and/or ensure that they only process it in accordance with our instructions and on our behalf, and that they shall only use such data to the extent to which we ourselves are entitled.

6.2. You consent to our sharing of your personal data with any member of our group of companies, which means our subsidiaries and our ultimate holding company and its subsidiaries.

6.3. We may share your personal data with selected third parties in connection with the purposes described in this Privacy Policy, including without limitation the following circumstances:

(a) disclosing your personal data to third parties who provide services to us (including, but not limited to, data providers, technology providers, insurance providers, and other professional services (including accountants, lawyers and auditors));

(b) disclosing your personal data to analytics and search engine providers that assist us in the improvement and optimisation of our Sites;

(c) disclosing your personal data to credit reference agencies, AML/CTF/CPF service providers for the purpose of compliance where this is a condition of us entering into a contract with you;

(d) disclosing your personal data to third parties in order to fulfil such third party products and/or services as may be requested or directed by you;

(e) disclosing your personal data to third parties that we conduct marketing and cross promotions with; and/or

(f) if we are investigating or preventing possible wrongdoing in connection with the Sites and/or the Services, or if required to protect our rights, property, or safety or the rights, property, or safety of our employees, the other Users of the Sites and/or the Services and/or the general public, we may disclose your information as required in connection with such investigations, preventive actions, or safety measures.

6.4. We may disclose your personal data to third parties for the purpose of fulfilling legitimate company interests:

(a) in the event that we sell or buy, or are discussing selling or buying, any business or assets, in which case we may disclose your personal data to the prospective seller or buyer of such business or assets with your consent;

(b) if the Company or substantially all of its assets are acquired by a third party who can continue to provide a continued relationship with you, in which case personal data held by us about our Users will be one of the transferred assets and you shall be informed accordingly of such change in ownership;

(c) if we are under a duty to disclose or share your personal data in order to comply with any legal obligation, or in order to enforce or apply our Terms of Use and other agreements; or to protect the rights, property, or safety of the Company, our Users, or others. This includes exchanging data with other companies and organisations for the purposes of fraud protection and credit risk reduction;

(d) for the purposes of billing, debt collecting credit rating and verification and fraud prevention; and/or

(e) for the protection of the Company's legal position in the event of legal proceedings.

6.5. We will ensure that all companies to which we disclose your personal data will only process it in accordance with our instructions and on our behalf, and may only use such data to the extent to which we ourselves are entitled. All such companies and third parties will further be required by us to meet the requirements of applicable data protection legislation and this Privacy Policy to keep your data secure at all times.

6.6. We may, if necessary or authorised by law, provide your personal data to law enforcement agencies, regulatory organisations, courts or other public authorities (including to comply with any court order or direction by any regulatory authority). We will attempt to notify you about legal demands for your personal data unless prohibited by Applicable Laws or court order or when the request is an emergency. We may dispute such demands when we believe that the requests are disproportionate, vague or lack proper authority, but we do not promise to challenge every demand.

6.7. Your personal data shall not be processed for purposes other than those it was collected for; should further processing be required, you will be informed of that purpose and provided with all necessary information.

7. STORING OF DATA

7.1. Where we store your personal data

(a) We endeavour to implement and maintain appropriate physical, organisational and technical security measures for the safeguarding of your personal data against loss, theft, misuse, unauthorised access, disclosure, alteration and destruction, in accordance with applicable Seychelles data protection laws.

(b) Access to personal data is only limited to authorised personnel who are fully trained in handling your information. These authorised personnel are required to ensure the confidentiality of your information and to respect your data protection rights at all times. Personnel who have access to your information will be subjected to disciplinary action should they fail to observe this Privacy Policy and other guidelines, code of conduct or policies which we may issue to them from time to time.

(c) The data that we collect from you may be transferred to, and stored at, via third parties for certain purposes. It may also be processed by staff who work for us or for one of our suppliers. Such staff may be engaged in, among other things, the processing of your details and the provision of support services. By submitting your personal data, you agree to this transfer, storing or processing. We take all steps reasonably necessary to ensure that your data is treated securely using sufficient and appropriate safeguards and in compliance with all legal requirements as well as this Privacy Policy and our strict codes of conduct.

(d) Unfortunately, the transmission of information via the internet is not completely secure. Although we will do our best to protect your personal data, we cannot guarantee the security of your data transmitted to our Sites; any transmission is at your own risk. Once we have received your data, we will use strict procedures and security features to try to prevent unauthorised access.

(e) In line with Applicable Laws, we shall, where lawfully obliged, notify the competent authorities and/or you in cases of personal data breach and will keep a log of any such breaches.

7.2. Unauthorised access

(a) While we take reasonable precautions to safeguard your personal data in our possession or under our control, these precautions do not guarantee that such personal data will not be accessed, disclosed, altered or destroyed from unauthorised or unintended access that is beyond our control, such as hacking or cybercrimes. You acknowledge that you understand and agree to assume these risks, and you agree not to hold us liable or responsible for any loss or damage resulting from unauthorised or unintended access that is beyond our control.

(b) The safety and security of your personal data also depends on you. Your Wallet is protected by your password, private key, and/or seed phrase, and we urge you to take steps to keep this and your other personal data safe by not disclosing your security credentials to others or leaving your Wallet open or otherwise accessible in an insecure manner. If you do share your private key or your personal data with others, you remain responsible for all actions taken in the name of your Wallet. If you lose control of your private key, you may lose control over your Wallet or other personal data and may be subject to legally binding actions taken of your behalf.

7.3. For how long will your data be stored?

(a) We will process and store your personal data for as long as it is necessary in order to fulfill our contractual, regulatory and statutory obligations. We will assess and respond to requests to delete data and we shall accordingly delete data provided that the data is no longer required in order to fulfill contractual, regulatory or statutory obligations, or the fulfillment of any obligations to preserve records according to Applicable Laws.

(b) We will normally retain your records for a minimum of five years to comply with legal, regulatory and contractual requirements unless there is a particular reason to hold the records for longer, including to fulfil the purposes we collected such personal data for, and to satisfy our business and/or legal purposes, including data analytics, audit, accounting or reporting purposes; your personal data may be retained for longer periods in the event of prospective or pending debt collecting, legal or law-enforcement proceedings and until such proceedings are formally and definitively concluded.

7.4. Anonymised data

In some circumstances we may anonymise your personal data so that it can no longer be associated with you, in which case we are entitled to retain and use such data without restriction.

8. YOUR RIGHTS

8.1. Depending on the jurisdiction that you are in or where we operate, you may enjoy certain rights under Applicable Laws in relation to our collection, use, disclosure and processing of your personal data, which may include:

(a) access to your personal data;

(b) the rectification of your personal data;

(c) restriction in such processing;

(d) objection to such processing;

(e) data portability; and

(f) requesting erasure of your personal data.

We may be permitted under Applicable Laws to refuse a request, for example, we may refuse (i) a request for erasure where the personal data is required for in connection with claims; or (ii) an objection request and continue processing your personal data based on compelling legitimate grounds for the processing.

8.2. The Company will facilitate your requests to exercise your rights above (if any), always communicating in a concise, transparent, intelligible, and easily accessible form and without undue delay. Where permitted by Applicable Laws, we may also charge you a fee to process your request.

8.3. If you want to withdraw your consent to pass personal data to specific third parties for marketing purposes, you shall write an email to our Help Desk at any time. Withdrawal of consent does not affect the legality of data processed prior to such withdrawal.

8.4. You shall have the right to object to any of the above-mentioned legitimate company interests as a basis for the processing of personal data by contacting our Help Desk. If you submit an objection, we will no longer process your personal data unless we can give evidence of mandatory or legitimate reasons for processing, or processing serves the enforcement, exercise, or defense of our company's legitimate interests.

8.5. Our Sites may, from time to time, contain links to and from the websites of our partner networks, advertisers and their affiliates. If you follow a link to any of these websites, please note that these websites have their own privacy policies and that we do not accept any responsibility or liability for these policies. Please check these policies before you submit any personal data to these websites.

9. AUTOMATED DATA COLLECTION TECHNOLOGIES

9.1. Cookies

(a) In order to improve our Sites and/or our Services, we collect data by way of "cookies". A cookie is a small file of letters and numbers that we store via your browser on the hard drive of your computer or mobile device. There are three main types of cookies:

(i) Session cookies: specific to a particular visit and limited to sending session identifiers (random numbers generated by the server) so you do not have to re-enter information when you navigate to a new page or check out. Session cookies are not permanently stored on your device and are deleted when the browser closes.

(ii) Persistent cookies: record information about your preferences and are stored in your browser cache or mobile device.

(iii) Third party cookies: placed by someone other than us which may gather data across multiple websites or sessions.

(b) We use cookies for the following purposes:

(i) Strictly necessary: These cookies are essential for you to browse the Sites and use their features. The information collected relates to the operation of the Sites (e.g. website scripting language and security tokens) and enables us to provide you with the service you have requested.

(ii) Functionality: These cookies remember the choices you have made, for example the country you visit the Sites from, your language and any changes you have made to text size and other parts of the web pages that you can customise to improve your user experience and to make your visits more tailored and enjoyable.

(iii) Performance/analytics: These cookies collect information on how you use the Sites, for example which pages you visit most often, whether you receive any error messages and how you arrived at the Sites. Information collected by these cookies is used only to improve your use of the Sites. These cookies are sometimes placed by third party providers of web traffic and analysis services, such as Google Analytics. For information on how Google processes and collects your information and how you can opt out, please visit https://policies.google.com/privacy?hl=en- US.

(iv) Targeting or advertising: These cookies collect information about your browsing habits and inferred interests to make advertising more relevant to you. They are also used to limit the number of times you see an advert as well as to measure the effectiveness of an advertising campaign. These cookies are usually placed by third party advertising networks. They remember the other websites you visit and this information is shared with third party organisations, for example advertisers.

(v) Social media: These cookies allow users to share content on the Sites on social media such as X. These cookies are not within our control. Please refer to the respective privacy policies of the social media providers for how their cookies work.

(c) We may also automatically collect and store certain information about your interaction with the Sites, including the blockchain address associated with your Wallet, your browser type and version, internet service provider, referring/exit pages, operating system, date/time stamps, unique device identifiers and related data.

9.2. Other technologies

In addition to cookies, we may use some other similar technologies as follows:

(a) Web beacons: small graphic images included on the Sites or emails or those of third parties to provide analytics information.

(b) Social widgets: buttons or icons provided by third party social media networks which may collect browsing data and will be received by such third party and are controlled by such third party.

(c) SDKs: these are mobile application third party software development kits used in the Sites. They enable us to collect information about app activity and the device it runs on.

(d) Local shared objects: these are sometimes called flash cookies and can be stored on your browser. They are used to maintain preferences and usage records.

9.3. Opt-out

(a) Most internet browsers are set up by default to accept cookies. However, if you want to refuse or delete them (or similar technologies), please refer to the help and support area on your browser for instructions on how to block or delete cookies (for example: Internet Explorer, Google Chrome, Mozilla Firefox, Microsoft Edge and Safari). Please note you may not be able to take advantage of all the features of the Sites and/or the Services, including certain personalised features, if you delete or refuse cookies.

(b) If you access the Sites through mobile devices, you can enable a “do not track” feature so as to control interest-based advertising on an iOS or Android mobile device by selecting the Limit Ad Tracking option in the privacy section of your Settings on iOS or via advertising preferences on Android devices (e.g. in Google Settings). This will not prevent the display of advertisements but will mean that they will no longer be personalised to your interests.

(c) We make no promises about how third parties react when you enable such “do not track” feature, including any third-party websites we may link to for your convenience or information. You should always review the privacy policies and specifically, the “do not track” policies, of such third-party websites to understand how they will respond to “do not track” requests.

10. CONTACT

Questions, comments and requests regarding this Privacy Policy are welcomed and should be addressed to our Help Desk at support@optimex.xyz. When you contact us, we may require that you submit certain forms or provide certain information, including verification of your identity, before we are able to respond.
